retired. "I left a paid position to volunteer, and I'm busier than ever before."

An FMCA convention includes a sizable motor home exhibition, with major motorhome manufacturers and dealers from across North America displaying hundreds of coaches in all styles and sizes.

The group is making its fourth visit to Perry. FMCA also will meet in Minot, N.D., in August. Recent motor home conventions were held in Redmond, Ore.; Albuquerque, N.M.; Buffalo, N.Y.; Pomona, Calif.; Hutchinson, Kansas; and Oklahoma City, Okla. All three of the previous FMCA conventions held at the agri-center rank among the 10 largest events the association has hosted.

FMCA members are sure to stay busy during their week in Perry.

Monday afternoon will be devoted to a special viewing of the motor home exhibits only.

The festivities - which will include live entertainment, as well as an opportunity to view the latest motor home models available - will take place from 3 to 7 p.m. Area residents who are interested in learning more about the RV lifestyle are invited to attend a seminar titled "Selecting The Right Motor home For Your Needs" from 5 to 6:15 p.m. Monday in the Multipurpose Building at the agricenter. The cost to view the motor homes on this afternoon is $7 per person, which includes the seminar. Monday's admission pass is good on Tuesday, March 22, as well.

In fact, local residents are advised to avoid the area surrounding the Georgia National Fairgrounds and Agricenter between the hours of 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. this weekend; and between the hours of 7 a.m. and noon on Monday.

At the close of the event, motorhome traffic will be leaving these sites on Friday, starting somewhere around 6 a.m., and local residents may wish to avoid these areas again between 6 a.m. and noon that day.

During the event, coaches that are being taken out for test drives will be exiting onto Larry Walker Parkway very close to its intersection with Gen. Courtney Hodges Boulevard.

Dale Grim and his family wish to thank everyone for their continuous prayers and support. For those that would like to send a card the address is Motor coaches began arriving for the Family Motor Coach Association's 73th International Convention. The Georgia National Fairgrounds and Agricenter expects to see more than 5,000 motor homes for the convention that lasts Monday through Thursday.

FMCA converges on Perry

Motor coach enthusiasts gather for annual int'l. convention

From staff reports

PERRY – Tony Vincent of California said he's never been to Perry before, but his wife is enjoying it.

As he shows off the amenities of his Endeavor motor coach, it is clear to see he can make himself at home even if he's across the country.

Vincent is one of over 5,000 Family Motor Coach Association members who will begin arriving at the Family Motor Coach Association's 73rd International Convention at the Georgia National Fairgrounds and Agricenter. Vincent said he looks forward to camaraderie with his fellow FMCA members and having a good time next week.

The official dates for the convention are March 21-24, but members have already begun arriving.

William "Bill" Conway of Connecticut said the one thing he looks forward to at the convention is the many vendors that will be present at the event.

"The ladies buy jewelry and health food, and the men look at motor coaches and technology,"

Conway said the majority of FMCA members are
